

Department of Philosophy
Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences in Rijeka

Croatian Science Foundation

Online workshop

14 February 2022

Public Justification, Disease, Capabilities

Keynote speaker

Andrew Reid

(Department of Politics and International Relations

University of Reading, UK)

14 FEBRUARY 2022 – MONDAY
10.00-11.15	Andrew Reid (University of Reading) Mental Health and Idealisation in Theories of Justificatory Liberalism
11.15-11.30	Coffee break
11.30-12.20	Elvio Baccharini; Luca Malatesti (University of Rijeka) Public Justification of Evaluative Standards. The Case of Psychopathy
12.20-12.30	Coffee break
12.30-13.20	Kristina Lekić Barunčić (University of Rijeka) The Extension of the Rawlsian Conception of Justice
13.20-13.30	Coffee break
13.30-14.30	Iva Martinić (University of Rijeka) Public Reason, Capabilities, and Evaluative Standards
14.30-15.30	Lunch
15.30-16.20	Marko Jurjako; Mia Biturajac (University of Rijeka) The Concept of Mental Disorder and Ethical Conceptual Engineering
16.20-16.30	Coffee break
16.30-17.20	Elvio Baccharini; Kristina Lekić Barunčić (University of Rijeka) Evaluative Standards in Psychiatry. Philosophy or Democracy?
17.30-18.20	Coffee break
18.30-19.20	Ivan Cerovac (University of Rijeka) Institutional Preconditions of Epistemic Justice

The event is an outcome of the project Public Justification and Capability Pluralism (JOPS), funded by the Croatian Science Foundation

(Grant Number: IP-2020-02-8073)

Organisation: Elvio Baccharini, Kristina Lekić Barunčić, Iva Martinić