

Department of Philosophy
Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences in Rijeka

Croatian Science Foundation

Workshop

8 March 2022

Faculty of Humanities and Social Science, Sveučilišna avenija 4, room 412

Moral Equality

Keynote speaker

Corinna Mieth

(University of Bochum, Germany)

8 March 2022 – TUESDAY
10.00-11.30	Corinna Mieth (University Bochum) Blind Spots in the Formula of Humanity: What Does It Mean Not to Treat Someone as an End?
11.30-11.40	Coffee break
11.40-12.30	Kristina Lekić Barunčić (University of Rijeka) The Extension of the Rawlsian Conception of Justice: The Case of Mild Autism
12.30-12.40	Coffee break
12.40-13.30	Iva Martinić (University of Rijeka) Public Reason and Species Integrity. A Contractualist Reply
13.30-14.30	Lunch
14.30.-15.20	Aleksandar Šušnjar (University of Rijeka) Making the Case for Civic Friendship as a Hybrid Epistemic and Moral Virtue
15.20-15.30	Coffee break
15.30-16.20	Mia Biturajac Should Harm in Psychiatry Be Publicly Justified?
16.20-16.30	Coffee break
16.30-17.20	Luca Malatesti, Iris Vidmar Jovanović (University of Rijeka) A narrative approach to the moral landscape in antisocial personalities: a philosophical analysis
17.20-17.30	Coffee break
17.30-18.20	Elvio Baccharini; Ivan Cerovac (University of Rijeka) On the Public Role of Science and Values in Public Decision-Making

The event is an outcome of the project Public Justification and Capability Pluralism (JOPS), funded by the Croatian Science Foundation

(Grant Number: IP-2020-02-8073)

Organisation: Elvio Baccharini, Kristina Lekić Barunčić, Iva Martinić